Seattle is an amazing place to live, work and play. At Blink, we're proud to be a part of what makes Seattle tick, and recognize that there are so many great people, business and organizations that have their sights on elevating the region's reputation across the USA and beyond. With that in mind, we wanted to share this recently unveiled video that shows a great cross-section of the sights, sounds, people, restaurants and industries that make up our fantastic city.

We'd like to thank everyone involved, especially Scott Berkun and Bryan Zug, a host of sponsors and 200+ Kickstarter backers that brought this to life. The next time anyone asks you what it's like to be in Seattle, you can send them here!

We all make Seattle.
